On the occasion of the 40th anniversary of the School of Clinical Medicine and Research, the Chronic Disease Research Centre (CDRC) salutes two of its most faithful and generous benefactors and expresses its gratitude for their extraordinary support over the years.

Richard P. Brown Jr. Esq.

Mr. Brown's contribution of $312,000 between 2004 and 2007 has significantly strengthened CDRC's capacity to undertake research in chronic non-communicable diseases. He has been an annual contributor to CDRC since 2001. Mr. Brown has devoted his time, expertise and imagination to organisations working to improve the health and welfare of the Philadelphia region and the world through his outstanding personal career in volunteerism and non-profit leadership and through his professional career in law in the United States. He is a member of the Board of the American Foundation for the University of the West Indies.

Edmund Cohen

Mr. Cohen has been a consistent supporter of programmes in Medicine and Environmental Management at the University of the West Indies for many years. He believes strongly in working informally with institutions and individuals he trusts. His contribution of $115,000 has enabled the establishment of Edmund Cohen Vascular Research Laboratory, a state of the art laboratory for molecular and vascular research within CDRC. He, along with two of his brothers, is credited with establishing Courts as a worldwide furniture retail chain, with more than 300 stores in the United Kingdom, the Caribbean and the Far East.
