JOIN THE TRADITION OF EXCELLENCE

INTRODUCTION

The Department of History and Philosophy of the Cave Hill Campus of The University of the West Indies, is offering a one/two year MA programme in Heritage Studies. Full time students can complete the programme in one year.

WHAT IS HERITAGE?

Heritage is both natural and man-made, therefore heritage may consist of landscapes or buildings. Its components may vary from country to country but one outstanding attribute of heritage is that it helps to give us our collective identities.

WHY STUDY HERITAGE?

Heritage reinforces our understanding of our surroundings and society. It enhances our ability as teachers or civil servants and gives a competitive edge in the field of tourism and other allied occupations. This course of study prepares participants for positions in the growing heritage industry. Best of all it is fulfilling and fun.

PROGRAMME

The MA Heritage Studies consists of six courses, four core courses and two electives selected from any other graduate level course in History or Cultural Studies.

Farley Hill, Barbados

George Washington House, Barbados

COURSES

The MA Heritage Studies consists of six (6) courses: four (4) core courses and two (2) electives selected from the elective offerings in Heritage or from any other graduate level course in History or Cultural Studies. The two (2) elective courses will be selected in consultation with the Programme Coordinator.

Core Courses:

- Caribbean History Heritage
- Cultural Resource Management for Heritage Sites (Under Development)
- Principles and Practices of Archives (Under Development)
- Museum Development, Management and Curatorship (Under Development)

Heritage Elective Courses (2 Required):

- Reading Material Culture
- Landscape History of the Eastern Caribbean
- Heritage Tourism (Under Development)

In addition to passing the six (6) courses, students must also submit a 12,000 word extended research paper on any topic of their choosing related to heritage within the Eastern Caribbean.
